COMPANY IS NOW
OUT OF DEBT

at Any Time in the Past.

D. D. Conway, secretary of the Electric & Water Company, reports that the concern is now out of debt, which is certainly a good showing and reflects credit onto the officers and the concern.

The Electric & Water Company has rather a precarious existence for a number of years. At least it was a debt head over heels, and when effort was made to pay off a little the indebtedness was a little less to the expense of the equipment. This went from bad to better until a local banker was afraid of the company's papers, notwithstanding the fact that they were back of them; then, sort of afraid of the shadow, as it were.

Woodrow Wilson's Message to American Business Men.

President-elect Wilson especially directed the following statement to the business men of the country:
"The result given us here today by the thoughtful voters of the nation may now enable us to give the country freedom and enterprise and a government reformed from selfish and arrogant influences, devoted to justice and progress."
"There is absolutely nothing for the honest and enlightened business man of the country to fear. No man whose business is conducted without violation of the rights of free competition and without such private understandings or secret alliances as violate the principles of our law and the policy of all wholesome commerce and enterprise, need fear either interference or embarrassment from the administration. Our hope and purpose is to bring all the free forces of the nation into active and intelligent co-operation and to give our prosperity a firmness and spirit and a confidence such as it has not had in our time."
"The responsibilities of the past are tremendous but they are common responsibilities which all leaders of nation and opinion must share. And with the sense of the people behind us, everything that is right is possible."
"My own ambition will be more than satisfied if I am permitted to be the frank spokesman of the nation's thought in these great matters."

Right Kind of Farming.

The Wisconsin Advancement association in its efforts to instill into the farmers of the state right practices, have often made use of the experiences of H. B. Krueger, who has taken more worldly prizes than any other living farmer. In this connection the fact has been noted that Mr. Krueger grows grains for the seed market and gets double the market prices. However, there are many farmers who do not care to sell for seed and that they may not miss the main point we give some of the results of Mr. Krueger's work this season. All of the crops of the season have yielded far above the average. Oats yielded nearly 50 bushels per acre, barley 45 bushels and rye 45 bushels. The average nearly double the state average in barley and materially more than the state average in rye.
The corn crops are attained through the use of the best seeds and following right practices. If Mr. Krueger were called upon to state the most material feature of his practices, he would probably say that it is in adding humus to the soil by turning under clover that is a new with every crop for the purpose of adding humus. This is a constant practice on his farm. Mr. Krueger says that after following this practice a few years he is out as much difficulty in getting a crop of clover and alfalfa. The amount of seed needed is about 50 bushels per acre, but the seed cost is a rule he uses about several dollars' worth of seed besides the great benefit from the clover turned under. Mr. Krueger started ten years ago with a forty-acre farm and since then has added and paid for 372 acres at an average of over $100 per acre.—Ex.

A Safe Business.

(Farm and Fireside.)
The egg demand has not yet been met, so that an increase in price will not tend to lower the price. Moreover, with the increase of population, the increased price of meat, due to many causes, and the highly nutritious food value of a fresh egg, it is extremely questionable whether the egg supply will ever meet or pass the point of demand. At the present at any rate, no farmer need hesitate to increase his egg supply if he can, for a market exists for a first class product during every month of the year.
I pass with a brief paragraph the subject of increasing the supply of eggs during the winter months, when the price is higher. That is so important from the economic as well as from the farmer's point of view that it is worthy a special paper by itself. In fact, it is the writer's firm conviction, based on experience, that the winter production of eggs will form one of the best sources of income for the average farmer in many of our Northern and Central states in the future.

Tuberculosis and Crime.

According to a statement made last week by Dr. Rook Syester, physician at the state prison at Waupun, 18 per cent of the prisoners give a history of coming from families in which there has been consumption.
This statement confirms other evidence that tuberculosis is a factor in causing crime. "Tuberculosis causes more orphanage than any other disease or cause of death," claiming the victims from the age of young parent hood.
That criminals should grow out of neglect during childhood is so evident as to need no argument," according to the doctor. "A child left to shift for himself, through the death of his father or mother, takes associations which are both bad for his health and bad for his morals."
It is believed that, if facts were available, it would be found that no less a proportion of minor criminals, those found in county jails and village lockups, would show similar family histories.

Wilson's Lead is 33,531 in State Plurality in State

For President—Woodrow Wilson, 33,531 plurality.
For Governor—Francis E. McGovern, 11,274 plurality.
For Lieutenant Governor—Thomas Morris, 11,718 plurality.
For Secretary of State—J. S. Donahoe, 23,089 plurality.
For State Treasurer—Henry Johnson, 23,965 plurality.
For Attorney General—Walter C. Owen, 21,849 plurality.

The canvass of the vote at the general election has been completed in every county in the state, except the Green county. In this county the work may not be completed for ten days.

The official returns as tabulated are now filed in Madison and are in the mails between the county seats and the capital.

Woodrow Wilson carried Wisconsin by a plurality of 33,531 in a total vote of 307,176. This is 57,265 less vote than was cast in the state at the presidential election in 1908.

Gov. Francis E. McGovern carried the state by a plurality of 11,274 over Judge John C. Karel. McGovern's vote was 179,479. Karel received 168,203.

There were 5,901 more votes cast for president than for governor. The total vote for president was 397,176, while the total vote for governor was 391,275.

Karel received 3,794 more votes for governor than Wilson did for president. McGovern received 18,600 more votes than Taft, while his vote was 10,000 less than the combined vote of Taft and Roosevelt, showing that all of the Roosevelt vote did not come from the republican side.

Important New Law.

After July 1, every single apple sold in Wisconsin must conform with a standard size fixed by congress. This is the first of a law enacted by the last congress.
Under the law, all apples to be placed on the market for sale must be within one of three grades. The first grade of apples must be two and one half inches in diameter; the second grade, two and one quarter inches in diameter and the third grade, two inches in diameter.
"Under two inches, apples are classed merely as scrub apples and have no market value. The effect of the law will be a better quality of apples on the market. Although the law does not go into effect until next July, shippers are already packing apples to conform with the law."
The new law, besides defining the standard apple, also fixes a legal barrel and box and the weight of each. Each barrel or box must be labeled with the quantity and the size of the apple.
The bill was originally fostered by the International Fruit Exporters' Association and the Western Fruit Jobbers' association of America.

PITTSVILLE (From the Record.)

Boys broke into the freight house of the Dexterville depot Sunday night and took a box of candy. They made entrance through the coal hole at one side of the building and succeeded in making their get away without being known. They are known now, however, and the Record has been asked to withhold their names. It is quite likely there will be nothing done in this case but a reputation will be punished with the full course of the law.

Dr. Housen made a trip to Grand Rapids yesterday with the auto, taking down the members of the county board from the city. He left for Pittsville again at 5 in the afternoon and will be in here at about 7:30, with a farm team ahead doing the propelling act.

Mrs. J. D. Rouse arrived in the city last Tuesday and the Rouses are anxiously enquired in the house kept all summer by Mr. Rouse in the first ward.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthews and daughter, Laura, of Grand Rapids, arrived in the city at the Geo. Trosen and Mrs. Ida Lunday homes.

VESPER (From the State Center.)

The brick work on the new church is now complete. The plasterers are about through. The carpenters have but a little more work to do. An effort will be made to have the church dedicated the last of this month.

Deposits in the State Bank of Vesper have nearly doubled since the last bank report Sept. 4th. The deposits are now around $16,000 and new deposits are coming right along. It has always been our contention that after this bank passes the infancy stage that it will enjoy a steady growth, and we believe that time has arrived. As the farm crops are being sold the bank accounts increase.

We are glad to chronicle the fact that Oshier Elvick has so far recovered from his recent accident and illness as to be about with the use of two crutches. While working on his new house yesterday, Geo. Horv had the misfortune to cut his hand quite badly from the saw which he was sawing with.

Mrs. Edna Fox and son Leslie and Miss Nellie Gustin went down to Port Edwards Saturday and enjoyed a pleasant visit with Mrs. Grace Kersten.
John Porter of McDill was a business caller here Monday.

Miss Francis Rosenthal of this place and Mr. Sankey whose old home is at Plover were married at the Polish Catholic church at Plover Monday morning. Miss Rosenthal is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rosenthal and has resided here most of her life and is a respected young man and has been operating a farm near here. The young couple have the good wishes of many friends. A very large crowd of friends were in attendance throughout the day and the evening.

Contest May go to Legislature.

O'Day 1891, Clark 1829, a plurality of only two for O'Day, is the result of the Lincoln county assembly contest as shown by the official canvass of the vote completed last Friday night by the board of canvassers at Merrill. While no definite steps have been taken in the matter, the contest may be taken to the legislature and an effort made to seat Mr. Clark instead of O'Day.
A legislative investigating committee would go behind the returns and recount the ballots. A very slight mistake in the election officials and found by the committee would change the result of the election as now shown on the face of the returns.
The board of canvassers, in its work found many errors in the returns and the count as it proceeded last Friday kept shifting in favor of one candidate to the other, until the final summing up left Mr. O'Day with only two votes to spare.

Too Soon.

The cavewoman was gifted with prophetic vision, and when he perceived how hideously hairy he was, a discontent took possession of him. "If automobiles were only invented," he muttered bitterly, "I should be setting the style in winter coats." That sense of having been born too soon, when he had it served to rob men of their peace?—Puck.

Prairie Chicken Should Have More Protection.

"The prairie chicken now common only in Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota, the Dakotas and Manitoba, is one of the birds which formerly occurred over a much wider range than at present and in far greater abundance. It has been reduced principally by hunters, as have so many of our finest species of birds. Many sportsmen desire allegiance to the highest principle of game preservation yet fall into practice these principles. On the present game laws, which will save no species of birds, and the rapid growth of the army of sportsmen and pothunters more than counterbalances the effect of the shortening of open seasons and reduction of bag limits. Moreover, game laws, as a general rule, are not strictly obeyed. In Southern Wisconsin where there was a closed season on prairie chickens for a term of years, to the writer's knowledge these birds were killed at every opportunity. The customary excuse was: 'They are so scarce they won't breed up anyway.' Aside from showing culpable willingness to assist in the birds' extermination, this excuse is untrue. Like all birds of the family, the prairie chicken is very prolific, and if adequately protected, would soon become numerous in old haunts. The bird is easily domesticated, hence is eminently adapted for propagation on properly managed land. The increase of game in this manner is the only way to preserve it indefinitely and at the same time allow hunting, the plan should be actively put into operation by those most interested in the preservation of game—the sportsmen."

"The prairie chicken is valuable not only as game, but as an efficient destroyer of farm pests, and any farmer would profit by having these birds reared on his place. Almost 15 per cent of the bird's food consists of weed seeds, including those of such pestiferous weeds as ragweed and the ragweed. More than 10 per cent of the diet consists of grasshoppers. A few other insects are eaten and more than a fourth of the food consists of leaves, flowers and shoots, collectively known as browse. The prairie chicken eats a great deal of grain, but takes most of it from the stubble. The bird is fond of such mast as hazelnuts and acorns."

"Nearly 15 per cent of the bird's food consists of insects, the bulk of them being grasshoppers. Almost every kind of grasshopper, locust or cricket appears to be acceptable, and nearly 30 different kinds were identified from the stomachs. The prairie chicken made itself especially useful during the destructive invasions of the Rocky Mountain locusts. Sixteen birds examined at that time were found to have eaten 886 locusts. Among other pests eaten by the species are the Colorado potato beetle, 12-spotted coccinella beetle, cotton-leaf worm, army worms, cutworms, yellow bear caterpillar and chinch bug."—From Farmers' Bulletin 497, by W. L. McAfee.

nesday for Logansport, Ind., where he will make his home with a married daughter. The professor is suffering

At Waupaca the smoking of cigarettes has become so common among students in the public schools that a mass meeting was held last week and an anti cigarette league formed among the parents. This league will make a systematic campaign to suppress the selling of cigarettes or cigarette papers to boys and will work in every way possible to put a stop to the practice of smoking. In the Waupaca schools there is indisputable evidence that cigarette smoking is putting the boys back in their studies as well as in athletics.

This section of the country has been visited by a stretch of nice weather

New Fight Begun in Wisconsin.
Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 9, 1912.—
On the eve of the opening of the Christmas Seal Campaign an epoch-making announcement has just been made by the Wisconsin Anti Tuberculosis Association to the effect that from now on, the fight against other contagious diseases will be taken up by that organization. In taking this advanced step in doing general public health work, the directors are according to a demand which has come from people, in every section of the state, who wish to see that same efficient educational work tried on typhoid, contagious and intestinal diseases of infancy and childhood,
etc. etc., that is procuring such remarkable results in the fight against consumption.

"Oh no," said Dr. Dearholt, the executive secretary, in answer to a query, "we shall not let up an iota
in the fight against tuberculosis.
The time has arrived, however, when that work is pretty well out of when we know exactly what we are doing and why. We've got a staff of veterans now, who can do twice as much as they are now doing provided they are relieved of some of the tail work. From this on, there won't be any let up at any season of the year. Needless duplication in office rent, telephone, traveling and other administrative expense, will be avoided by this move. More important than that, co-operation and coordination will prevent a divided effort and working at cross purposes.
If the importance of this step is realized, the people will double their contributions in this Christmas Seal Campaign, and get five times as much action and value for their money.
Amongst other things that will be done is secure greater respect for health laws and health officials.
We're going to try to reach as much as is known and set up such a demand for more knowledge on the part of the general public, that the scientists will have to sit up nights to keep ahead of the public knowledge.

This can truly be called a Thanksgiving Sale, not alone because it is timed to fill your Thanksgiving needs, but because the low prices will give you real cause for Thanksgiving. This is not a sale of end-of-the-season merchandise, though the prices might lead you to think so--no--this is all seasonable fall and winter goods--goods that you can get long and satisfactory use from. Here is your opportunity--you will find here beautiful and serviceable garments, many of them even of the famous PRINTZESS make, at prices which every woman can well afford--this store, the home of low prices, has reduced these prices still more. So come, soon and early, make your selection and sit down to your Thanksgiving dinner of turkey and cranberry sauce and pumpkin pie thankful that we had the Thanksgiving sale and thankful that you had the foresight to take advantage of it.
